Distinctly Lutheran: Saved by Faith Alone — Pastor Jon Zabell

This month's article is the third in a three-part series. We're unpacking three Bible teachings that mark us as distinctly Lutheran, namely, that we are saved: by Scripture alone, by grace alone, and by faith alone. We're considering how what is distinctly Lutheran helps each of us live as God's people in the 21st century, and how Lutherans like us are uniquely equipped to engage with our world.

How are we saved? Many in our world doubt that we even need to be saved. The Bible says we do, and it's clear how this saving happens: For we maintain that a person is justified by faith apart from the works of the law (Romans 3:28). We are saved - justified - by faith.

This isn't how justification typically works in our dealings with one another. With one another, we tend to justify ourselves by the works of the law, and sometimes rightly so. Let's say you're late for work. Your supervisor might ask, "Why are you late?" Now your lateness needs to be justified in some way. You might answer by saying that there was a miscommunication and then traffic was bad. Those things may even be true, but that's not the point. Even if what you say is true, the point is that you are justifying your lateness by saying that it's not your fault. You are justifying yourself by implying that you followed all the rules, and you're suggesting that since you've kept the rules, you should be declared righteous. You are seeking to justify yourself by the works of the law. This may be perfectly acceptable when you're dealing with other people. Our whole court system depends on justifying people by the works of the law, and it's a good thing it does, because this is a good way to keep peace in society.

Things are different in God's courtroom. As Paul says a few verses earlier, "no one will be declared righteous in God's sight by observing the law" (Romans 3:20), and the law he's talking about is not the law of your supervisor or even the law of our land. He's talking about God's law.

We know the kinds of things God expects of us in his law. We should honor him and his Word. Each of us ought to be a good friend, a good husband, a good wife, a good student. In whatever station any of us find ourselves, we should love the people around us. We'd like to believe that most of the time we do a pretty good job at doing what God's law says. If someone challenges that, we're quick to defend ourselves. We tend to think that if we are satisfied with how well we keep God's law, then he is satisfied, too.

To this, God would say, "If that's what you think, then you haven't really listened to my law" Back in verse 19 we're told: "Whatever the law says, it says to those who are under the law." In other words, you can't just pick the parts of God's law you're good at and ignore the rest. Whatever the law says, it says to you.

Maybe you're good at keeping the parts of the law about working hard and loving your family, and that's good - but how about loving your enemy? How about pure motives in everything you do?

When we compare ourselves to God's law, "every mouth is silenced, and the whole world held accountable to God" (19). It's funny how the law of God suddenly dries up all our talk about being a pretty good person. We can't be saved that way.

Note what the verse says: every mouth is silenced. Can you picture that? It will happen on the Last Day. On that day, no one will be able to dispute what God's law says or to excuse their sins. Even now, people may have more understanding of God's law than they are willing to admit. As people of today's world align themselves with their various tribes and duke it out with each other, there are still law-breakers we all find reprehensible: rapists, sex traffickers, pedophiles. If our world can agree on accountability for these people, perhaps we can at least gain a hearing for an agreed upon accountability in other areas of natural law, too. Aren't a father and mother better equipped to raise children than two dads or two moms? Couldn't pro-choice people be invited to consider erring on the side of caution and shortening the time window when abortion is considered legal?

And if there is such a thing as natural law, can we also gain a hearing for the idea that there must be accountability for all who break it? Might our discussion of natural law even be a springboard into the law of the Lord?

To the extent that we can talk this way in our world, we can also talk about the Bible's solution to our accountability problem. We can promote that distinctly Lutheran teaching that both we and our world always need desperately to hear: we are justified by faith. Paul is speaking about faith in Jesus, our perfect substitute who kept the law in our place.

Here we must admit, no amount of arguing will win anyone over. If God hadn't said it, we'd never believe it, either. Justified by faith? It's like collecting a paycheck without working. It's like winning the lottery jackpot without even buying a ticket. It's like a constant flow of clean laundry without anybody throwing a single piece in the wash. Only by a miracle of the Holy Spirit will any of us believe, but our believing isn't what makes it true. God has spoken. Our salvation is figured entirely apart from anything we have ever done wrong. We are justified by faith in Jesus alone.

It's good to remember and review what it means to be Lutheran. Are we Lutherans stuck in the writings of a 16th century theologian named Martin Luther? No, we are clinging to the promise that has been tucked away in the heart of God from all eternity. What is essential to Lutheranism is essential for our faith and for our eternity, that at the center of God's revelation is Jesus Christ: one Savior for a world of sinners. Whatever else makes Lutheranism distinct is connected to that same gospel. We are saved by Scripture alone, by grace alone, by faith alone. This gospel is the message we Lutherans need, and whether they know it or not, our world is hungry for it, too.

Call Letters

Friday, March 4, 2022

Dear members of St. Paul Lutheran Church and School,

A few weeks ago, you extended to us divine calls to serve as your 3rd grade teacher and principal. We have had time to speak with some staff and send and receive quite a few emails. From the very beginning we were able to see the love you have for sharing God's Word in your community. Everyone we communicated with expressed how much the ministry team is committed to excellence. We see a team that supports and challenges one another for the purpose of being able to better reach people with the Gospel. We heard about high expectations, the growth in the school, a building project that the Lord will surely bless, great support for the school from the congregation, a well-organized Board of Education, a teaching staff with a wide variety of talents and abilities, the amazing work of the FVL Schools Federation, the blessing of the Wisconsin Choice Program, and a strong love for our Savior. The Lord has truly blessed St. Paul.

After engaging in many conversations with people at St. Paul, Reformation, and Shepherd of the Hills, and giving prayerful consideration to the needs of God's people in Green Bay, as well as here in San Diego, we have decided to return the calls to St. Paul and continue our work here in San Diego.

We want to thank all of you for your prayers and offer special thanks to those who took the time to write or call to offer your encouragements and information about St. Paul. We wrestled with this decision but are confident that our gifts and abilities can best serve the Gospel ministry here and that the Lord will provide workers for St. Paul in His way and in His time.

May God continue to bless you and keep you in his care!

Your brother and sister in Christ, Michael and Jessica Ross

Dear members of St. Paul Lutheran,

This week, I was issued the Divine Call to serve as principal for your school. I thank you for the confidence you have placed in me by extending this Call and I ask sincerely for your advice and your prayers during the upcoming days as I deliberate where I can best serve in Christ's Kingdom. On a personal level, it is proving to be a humbling yet healthy experience to deliberate between the two Calls I currently hold (both to Green Bay and to St. Paul's in North Fond du Lac, WI). Again, I thank you for your prayers and your guidance.

In Christ, Aaron Hartwig

To the members at St. Paul Lutheran Church,

I am writing to acknowledge the divine call that I received to serve as the third-grade teacher at your school. I am humbled to receive the call to serve in your school.

In the days ahead I will be in contact with other teachers and leaders of St. Paul in an effort to learn as much as I can about where I can best serve the Lord in his kingdom. I look forward to learning more about your school.

In the meantime, I humbly ask for your prayers that the Lord would lead me to a decision that pleases him.

Thank you and God Bless, Mrs. Nicole Aderholdt

March 26, 2022

Dear St. Paul family,

Worship the LORD in the splendor of his holiness.

Ascribe to the LORD the glory due his name.

For great is the LORD and most worthy of praise.

--Psalm 96:4, 8-9

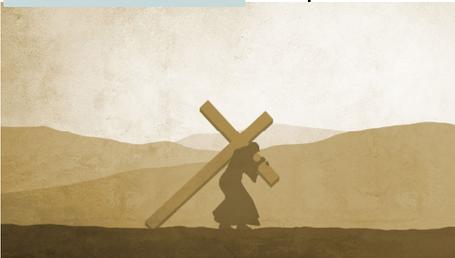

It is a joy and privilege to work as your staff minister and to help lead this congregation of believers in the worship of which our LORD is most worthy. What calling could be better!

I have been asked, however, to consider filling a similar role in a new place. This past Thursday evening, the Holy Spirit led the Governing Board of Martin Luther College to extend me a Divine Call, asking that I would serve at our synod's College of Ministry in the position of Campus Worship Coordinator and Professor of Music. This is the same position Pastor Zabell was asked to consider a few months ago.

It is always a blessing to see how our gracious God lays the path of service before each of us. At any time, but especially as I hold this call, I welcome your input about my role in the kingdom work we carry on together, and I also ask for your prayers on my behalf as he guides my thoughts and decision.

May God bless the work of us all!

Peter Schaeve

Built on the Rock Update:

Then Jesus went with his disciples to a place called Gethsemane, and he said to them, "Sit here while I go over there and pray." —Matthew 26:36

Jesus, knowing all of what awaited him on his journey to the cross, took his closest friends to the foot of the Mount of Olives to pray. He asked for God's will to be done.

This Lenten season we too are at the foot of a mountain. The challenge we've given ourselves is to gather pledges and commitments totaling one million dollars by Easter. We are a little more than halfway there. As members of this congregation, we ask for your prayers that God's will be done. If one million dollars is meant to be gathered, HIS will be done. If the building is meant to move forward with less than that amount, HIS will be done. If more classrooms and expanded gathering space are meant to share the gospel of Christ, HIS will be done. We ask for your commitments, but we need your prayers. We have faith that God the Father, Son and Holy Spirit will guide us to do HIS will.

Join us for prayer and planning at a special congregational breakfast in the fellowship hall on Sunday, April 3rd, 9:15 a.m.

Serving People from Hong Kong in the U.K.

A note from Rev. Michael Hartman, new missionary to London

Just days ago, I was at a market in central Liverpool in northern England enjoying Hong Kong cuisine with a family of four. While we ate, they emotionally explained the events that led to their decision to uproot their family from Hong Kong and move to London... "We can understand the Ukrainian refugees," they said. "We felt we had no choice."

On another recent occasion I was invited by members of our sister synod in Hong Kong to visit a church in Liverpool with services in Mandarin and Cantonese. The pastor explained how in early 2020 his was a little congregation. "We grew from 20 to 130 people in one year." He added, "We need basic Bible training." Those who had invited me to the service concurred.

Due to changes in Hong Kong law, the United Kingdom has opened the door for Hong Kong citizens to immigrate to the U.K. In fact, more than 20 percent of members and leaders from WELS' sister synod in Hong Kong have already moved to the U.K., with more on the way. It is estimated that up to two million people will relocate from Hong Kong to the U.K. during the current immigration wave.

"Give thanks in all circumstances; for this is God's will for you in Christ Jesus" (1 Thessalonians 5:18). This immigration wave presents a clear opportunity to share the gospel with these new arrivals. My family and I look forward to moving to the U.K. this summer as I continue to serve this mission field. If God wills it, WELS World Missions plans to call a second missionary this year to assist with outreach to the Hong Kong people in the U.K. Please pray for God's blessings and consider a special mission offering today.

I invite you to watch my recent interview to learn more about this mission.

Easter for Kids is on Saturday, April 9, from 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. All children of our congregation are invited to come for Easter-related activities: the Easter story, songs, crafts, games, snacks... Everyone is also encouraged to bring a friend who may need to learn about Jesus death and resurrection for the payment of our sins.

Procession with Palms: Palm Sunday worship includes a procession with palms. Any children who would like to participate are asked to meet in the narthex by the church library prior to the service. The refrain of "All Glory, Laud, and Honor" is what the children will sing, if you want to practice beforehand. The Junior Choir will help lead.

Passion History: The Palm Sunday service will also include a reading of the entire Passion History from Luke's gospel. If you weren't able to attend midweek services, you still have opportunity to hear the story of Jesus' passion in this service and to sing many Lenten hymns.

Maundy Thursday worship includes Holy Communion in both services and the stripping of the altar for Good Friday.

Easter Donations: Donation sheets for Easter flowers and food items for the Easter Breakfast are on the hallway bulletin board. Stop by to sign up or call the office to see what is still needed.

Thank you to all who have signed up for breakfast donations already! Please remember to have breakfast donations at church before Saturday, April 16, 9:00 a.m., so we can get everything ready for Sunday.

If you signed up to donate for Easter flowers, you can drop off payment in the office. Remember also that one of the Easter plants is yours to take after Easter services; first come, first choice.
